

Requiem - Easy Read

	What happens in Requiem?
	Four people start building a sculpture.
	They use metal tubes, clamps and different tools.
	There is gentle vocal music.

The sculpture looks like bones of a giant ribcage.

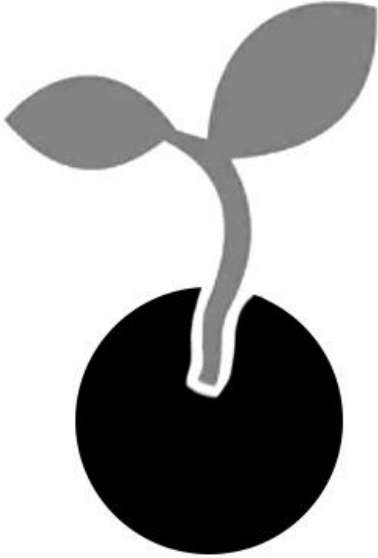

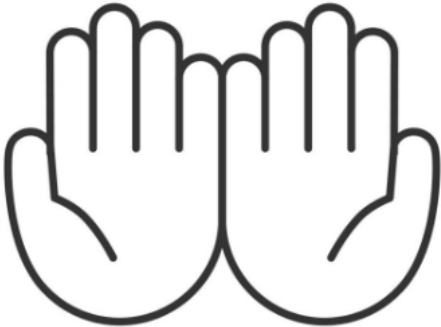

Then, the people pull ropes.

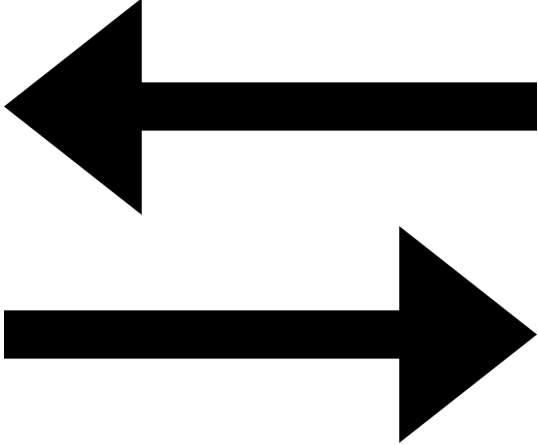

The ribcage moves, like it is breathing.

Finally, it stops.

	What is Requiem about?
	Requiem is about our world and life in it. The world is beautiful and amazing, like the sculpture.
	Humans are part of the world, and help build it.
	Humans can take care of the world. We can make the sculpture breathe.

	But life and breath also end. We want to think about this, together.
	What can I expect?
	Requiem lasts about 1 hour 30 minutes.
	You can stand, sit, or move around.

	You can come and go whenever you want.
	Please stay behind the barrier.
	Please do not touch the sculpture.
	There will be gentle music.

There will be breathing sounds.

The performers use tools, including rattle guns.

Sometimes there will be loud noises from those tools.

There will be lights pointed at the sculpture.
